HAUL WATER TO VOLCANO HOUSE

The water problem at the Volcano House is a very serious proposition these days. All water for the hotel has to be hauled a distance of five miles in a five hundred gallon tank on an auto truck. Two or three trips are made each day, giving the hotel upwards of a thousand gallons a day, which has met the needs of the house and its guests. Mine Host Demosthenes is keeping everyone happy and the twenty or thirty people at the Hotel are having a very comfortable and pleasant time of it, seldom reminded of the troubles of the propi-etor to keep them supplied with good water.

The crater is active, but the lake is a comparatively small one and much clouded by the smoke and fumes that issue from the sides but there is always much of interest other than the lava lake, and the weather is ideal for the tourist or the guest in search of quiet and rest.

PARCELS POST TAKEN; GOOD ROADS LEFT

WASHINGTON, August 12.—The Senate today, after five hours' work on the Postoffice appropriation bill, reached an agreement to vote on the measure at 4 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

Discussion of the bill was enlivened late in the day, when Senator LaFollette, speaking on a House provision granting to employees of the postal service the right to organize, deliberately charged officials of the Postoffice with rifling his mail in an attempt to delve into an investigation he was making into the postal service.

The Wisconsin Senator said that his mail had been "subjected to an espionage almost Russian in character," and he showed to the Senators a bundle of letters which he said had been tampered with.

"Absurd" and "ridiculous" are adjectives applied to Senator LaFollette's charges by the officials of the Postoffice Department. It is declared positively that if the Senator's mail has been rifled the crime was committed by somebody not connected with the department.

Senator LaFollette, after making his charges, said that men were removed from the railway mail service "for no other reason than that they joined organizations designed to improve labor conditions in the service."

He cited several instances, including the case of George W. Nichols, who, after twenty-two years of service in the department, was suspended shortly after he became a candidate for office in the Railway Mail Clerk's Protective Association. The Senator discussed the "gag" rules promulgated by President Roosevelt and President Taft, forbidding Postoffice employees from carrying their grievances to members of Congress.

He had read into the record several letters from mail clerks in response to the circular letters. He asserted that the officials of the department recognized only one organization, the "Railway Mail Association."

He said, was dominated by the officials of the department.
During the day three important provisions of the Postoffice bill were acted upon. The Bourne-Bristow plan for a parcels post system, with a system of graduated charges based on eight zones of distance dividing the country, was placed in the bill as a substitute for the House parcels post provision, which outlined a flat charge of 12 cents a pound, throughout the country.

A provision in the House bill make available Federal funds to assist the States in good-roads construction was voted down, and an amendment framed by the Senate committee providing for a commission of three Senators and three Representatives to study the question was adopted.

Another amendment written into the bill would compel newspapers using the mails to file with the Postmaster-General all the names of owners, publishers, editors, stockholders and holders of bonds and mortgages.

J. A. SPAULDING IN BIG FARMING-PROJECT

WILLITS, Cal.—J. A. Spaulding, former a sugar manufacturer of the Hawaiian Islands, is farming 10,000 acres of land near Willits after a fashion that is a great surprise to the resident farmers.

Spaulding is counting on planting practically all of his 10,000 acres to alfalfa. A portion of the land has already been planted. A delegation representing the Sacramento Valley Development Association recently visited the Spaulding holdings and marveled at what he had done on land that had not heretofore produced such a high class crop as alfalfa.

The Honolulu man has cut the 10-000-acre tract into 160-acre units and placed a pumping plant in the center of each. His contract for power with the Northern California Power Company is said to involve approximately $100,000.
The land upon which the alfalfa is being planted was originally of a rolling character. As a result, the first thing Spaulding did was to start several gangs with traction engines and ploughs to work ridges down the knolls and filling in the sunken valleys.
About 200 acres have already been planted and a good stand has been secured. Rec.
